Not-for-Profit Services

Mountjoy Chilton Medley LLP provides expert audit, tax and advisory services to more than 150 not-for-profits with diverse missions and purposes.

Your organization's financial reports require special attention because they often determine the amount of funding you receive. Since funding agencies are bombarded with grant applications each year, you must set your organization apart. We can assist you in preparing these reports to assist your not-for-profit in securing the funding it needs.

We know your mission is unique, with specific goals and motivations. Funds from federal and state grants, local governmental agencies and donors are critical to your organization's success. Depending on the source, requirements related to control testing may apply. We are committed to helping strengthen your financial reporting transparency and board governance while maximizing board and donor relationships.

MCM's Not-for-Profit Services Team's experience with the issues facing your organization means we can provide insight and assist you in fulfilling your oversight responsibilities while making the most of your donor relationships. Let us help your organization make a difference.
